

OFFICIALS OF HORSE SHOW RELATED BY OPENING SUCCESS

All Expectations Surpassed by Brilliance of First Day of Annual Competition.

SOCIETY THROWS BOXES

Elite of Horsesdom, From All Sections of the Country, Take Part in Interesting Events.

Smiles of satisfaction wreathed the faces of officials of the National Capital Horse Show today over the brilliance which marked the opening of the seventh annual show at the ground, Eighth and D streets northwest yesterday.

For the opening day's attendance and the splendid manner in which the card of sixteen events were run off surpassed even the fondest hopes of those interested in the show.

Society turned out in large numbers filling the boxes and grandstands to their capacity, while the elite of horsesdom from all sections of the country crowded the paddocks and the hundreds of stalls surrounding the show grounds.

Eighteen events tomorrow. Fourteen events are carded for tomorrow. Four hunting classes in which the greatest jumping horses of the East will be seen in competition are on the card.

Probably the most exciting and hotly contested class billed for the day will be that of "open-to-all hunters," in which forty-four high class animals are entered. Then there is the MacMurray Cup class, in which the jumpers will compete for a cup donated by Miss Ethel MacMurray, of this city.

Stotesbury, the Philadelphia millionaire broker, clubman, and horseman, won a notable victory yesterday with his classy pair of roadsters, Ruby and Laska.

Judge William H. Moore's Memnon and Maiden took first in the heavy harness class.

Capt. William Mitchell, U. S. A., upheld his reputation as being the owner of some of the army's best horses. His took first and third honors in the charger class against eight other entries and second in the class for stallions.

Exceptionally clean performances marked the jumping classes, not a spill being recorded during the afternoon.

A Couple of "Thrillers." John Buchanan, son of Gen. James A. Buchanan, president of the show, one of the first to enter the ring in the class for lightweight green hunters, furnished the first real "thriller" of the afternoon, when his mount became uncontrollable and leaped out of the ring into a crowd of spectators and horses waiting the call for the class.

William Corcoran, on Prince William, after clearing five of the six jumps, furnished the same sort of a sensation when the horse became frightened and leaped over the ring fence.

The Glen Riddle Farms stable captured the feature jumping event of the day, the Corinthian class, thereby winning the "president's silver bowl," presented by Gen. J. A. Buchanan, president of the Horse Show Association.

Mrs. Allen Potts, Miss Constance Vauclein, Mrs. William Lieber, Miss Mildred Greble, and Miss Buchanan were among the prominent horsewomen who rode in the events.

The court ordered that in the event Talley's recovery he be returned to the custody of Sheriff Smith and placed on trial here for murder.
